CHAMPIONS AGAIN

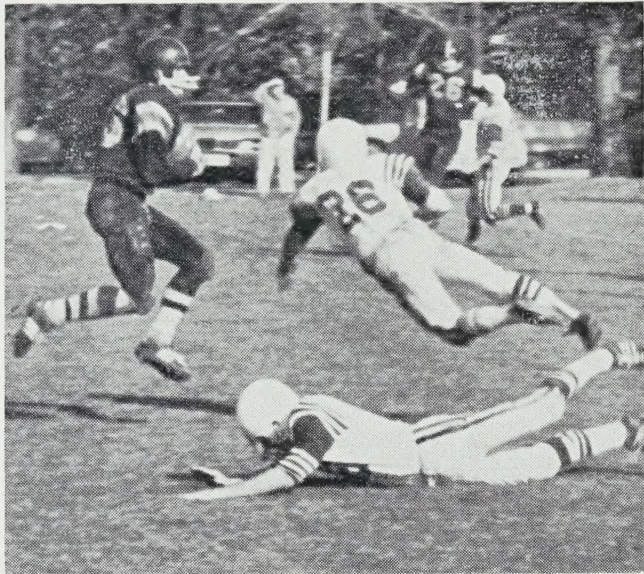

Love gets the ball on a hand off from Lyttle. Baird and Vaughan give him the hole he needs.

"It was a very good year", (1970), for Ridley athletes, and Ridley footballers were no exception. They climaxed their season by bringing home the I.S.A.A. Football Championship to Ridley for the first time since 1966.

One hundred and thirty-one boys participated in Ridley football this year, under the tutelage of eight master coaches. Four of these men were coaching football at Ridley for the first time; Mr. Ken Chipman joined the first team coaching staff; The Rev'd Jack Rose our new chaplain joined the second team; and Messrs. John Inglis and Tony Knowles coached the 3rd team.

George Lyttle captained and quarterbacked the first team, with the assistance of seven old colours, to a 6-1 season record. The team dropped its first game 13-6 to Hamilton Collegiate Institute, a School for Grade 13 students only, in Hamilton. In its remaining six games the first team averaged 42 points a game offensively, and defensively under the fine coaching of Mr. 'Beast' Armstrong gave up only 27 points total. The team held St. Catharines Collegiate Institute, Appleby and (for the first time in many years) U.C.C. scoreless.

Christie ma. makes a big gain in the T.C.S. game.

Mr. Keith Mawhinney's well-drilled second team, co-captained by From and Dixon, turned in exactly the same won loss record as the first team. They won six in a row after dropping their opening game to Hillfield School in Hamilton.

During the last few years the second team, because of choice of sport and VIA boys being allowed a term off sports, has become more of a feeder for the first team. Mr. Keith Mawhinney believes he has had the best group of potential first teamers this year than ever before.

The third team was masterminded by rookie coaches Mr. John Inglis and Mr. Tony Knowles. Co-captained by McMahon and Grey I they won three games and lost two, both to Appleby College of Oakville.

The two veteran coaches Messrs. Carl Dorland and David Mackey handled the under sixteen team again. The team, led by co-captains Gray II and Reifel, won four games and lost two, both to their traditional rival U.C.C. In the first U.C.C. game, Ridley lost 27-0, but to everyone's satisfaction the team came back in the last game of the season and held the same team to an 8-6 score in a very hard fought ball game.

With all due respect to past football teams, the calibre of football at Ridley has improved over the last few years at all levels. I attribute this improvement first of all to the decision made in 1965 to allow boys a free choice of games in the fall-term. Now the boys who want to play football are getting more and better coaching. Also the free choice of sports in other terms has allowed the development of track and rowing at Ridley with their emphasis on speed and strength respectively, both of which have contributed to the improvement of football at the School. Rugger, another new sport, provides an illustration of the beneficial or carry over value of one sport to another. Lyttle, this year's first team quarterback, displayed considerable ability at running the modern day version of the old end run, the quarterback-option. This ability was most certainly developed last spring on the rugger fields.

The improved showing of our football teams is only part and parcel of an improving overall athletic programme for the students at Ridley College.

Lower School Notes

School years all begin the same way; with excitement, or pain, or wary expectation, but rarely with indifference. So it was with R.L.S. this September. All of the ingredients were present in their proper order.

As quickly as ever, too, the school routine picked us all up; the excited, the pained, the wary, boys and masters; and made us, willy-nilly, get on with the job. The 139 boys (61 of them new boys) were quickly divided into houses, dormitories, beds, tables, classes and teams; and the natural leavening process began for another year.

Two new members of the staff are here to ease the learner on his way. Mr. John Butler is Assistant Music Master, (and making far more noises than Mr. Hollinrake makes stinks), and Miss Stephanie Macgregor is the Nurse-who-spoils-the-boys in the Infirmary. We are pleased to announce that Miss Macgregor has not been run off her feet as yet.

Games, of course, are an important ingredient in Lower School. We have, so far, enjoyed a happy, productive and successful season. (II Football in chorus, "Oh yeah?"). The Football Firsts presented the School with a 7-2 record, and the First Soccer Team was 8-4 against some really excellent opposition.

The Cross-Country Race has been run with 131 boys taking part. When they sorted themselves out, McElheny, Kyle mi, and Naylor led the pack home; but let it be noted that there were no losers, and that, in the area of the sixties and seventies, there was much courage, sportsmanship and growing-up being displayed.

Despite the fact that McElheny is an Iroquois, the Algonquins won the Cross-Country on total points. Nothing daunted, the Iroquois came back to grasp the Tribe Soccer Championship from the same Algonquins.

Speaking of championships, many old Ridleians will be pleased to hear that some of the non-official activities are being maintained. At present, the prune-eating championship stands at 63. We think this is quite respectable for the Lower School but realize that it is nothing compared to the tales of past glory we have heard. (There were giants on the earth in those days). At any rate, the discovered champion was awarded a prize thought suitable by the M.O.D. who, in the fashion of M.O.D.'s, was not amused.

Grey Cup Weekend saw the World Series of crokinole played in Leonard House — Winner: Marshall II (loud applause, but nothing vulgar, please).

Parents' Day came and went with only minor breakdowns amongst the staff and students. This day has become a fixture, and much passing of frank and honest conversation is the order of the day.

Halloween in the Lower School: Bunston, Wilkinson, Ouellette, Pos ma., Knight, Lawson, Brooks and Naylor

The Boxing Finals are just over, and Cairn won the MacLachlan Trophy for the best boxer, with DeRose in the runner up spot. A new trophy was awarded. The Hilton Trophy, donated by Alfred Chapman, Esq., Q.C. in memory of Bill Hilton (36), is awarded to the "best loser," who was Gibson this year.

And with Boxing Finals over, can Cross-Country Supper be far behind?

Putting Art In Its Place

Among the most frequently heard words in current educational vocabulary are discovery, originality, creativity, divergent thinking. These are old ideas to the artist and art educators. I am gratified to find that the aims and methods to which artists have subscribed for so long are beginning to be applied in a wide range of subjects. Perhaps this trend helps account for the growing acceptance of art as a valid subject in the Secondary School programme and particularly here at Ridley College.

Mrs. Kay Boa, our Art Teacher.

Art is not something separate from, and unrelated to, other subjects. Science, Mathematics, English, Music and Art form a family of subtle inter-relations. Without any one of them, education is weakened. Art in this sense plays neither a major nor a minor role but assists in integrating other subjects. Artistic values do not lend themselves to scientific proof. Thus the student, in his search for new and creative expression, leads himself to the discovery of inductive reasoning. Through this discovery the plodding conformist may be converted to the innovator and it is the innovator, who generally takes the lead in our complex society.

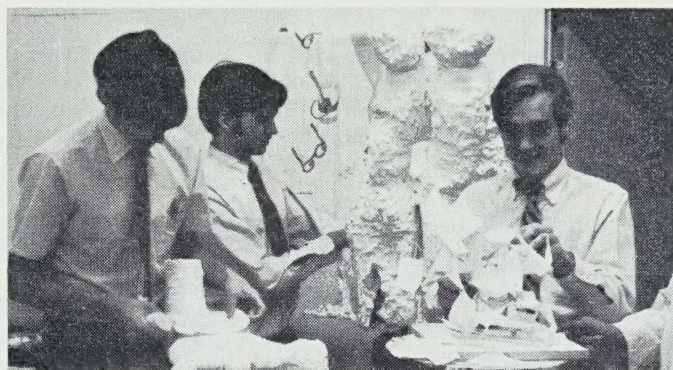

As personalities develop throughout the school years, students become real individuals. Young people are normally equipped with daring, seeking, enquiring minds and can attune themselves to the creative side of existence more at this time than any other period in their lives. The art student has the opportunity to develop a sensitive perception. Ideas and emotions become exciting and the desire to speak through some medium, paint, wood, clay, etc. becomes important to him.

More than ever before, he seems not so much the over-anxious teenager wanting to conform as the young adult who needs to find a place for himself as an individual.

Limitations of space and budget restrict the scope of the programme at Ridley. Yet students are not restricted to a narrow curriculum; they are required to expand within the limits of our facilities. In addition to our art class room (Dean's House — 2nd floor), we have another small work room with some storage space. We have 12 sculpture stands with turntable tops. This allows students to do 3 dimensional clay sculpture and casting in plaster, and plaster over wire armatures.

Also included in the art programme are graphic design projects and graphic printing processes. Three dimensional structural units involving space, perspective, painting in a variety of media, spontaneous gesture drawing. These are a few projects that help develop students' perception, imagination and vision. By vision, I mean the capacity of the human imagination to realize itself in the creation of a work. This varies in students but generally this approach to visual experience should begin in Grade XII or Grade XIII.

This experience happens in the mature, artistic, sensitive student. Art work goes through a series of stages before its completion.

Newell ma., Thomas and Fisher work at their creations in plaster.

The education of young people is not complete unless they have been accorded the opportunity to use their creative abilities to their fullest extent. Only through a continuous programme can students develop the self-discipline needed to sift experiences, and resolve them in art.

BONA FIDE

(Webster's: in good faith, in reality.)

The Ridley College Association's annual week-end at the school was held on last 17-18 October. It was well organized in all facets — even the weather co-operated. As a result, those present enjoyed the various activities in a relaxed and happy manner.

The Class of '45 during the Association Week End.

On the Friday evening, the classes of '45, '60 and '65 each held a gathering in town. It will be remembered that the former group consists of men who were boys at Ridley during the trying days of the Second Great War, and many are the memories, both tragic and humorous, of those years. Their gathering was highly enjoyable, but a feature of it was that but few reminiscences were exchanged — naturally, the ladies present would not be with it in such conversations.

Saturday morning saw eleven Upper and Lower School football and soccer games against teams from T.C.S. and U.C.C. Registration occurred on the field, and a buffet-luncheon was served in the gymnasium. After the latter, the first football team added to the occasion by defeating T.C.S., 48-14, in a well-played match.

Before, and after, the game, the new Ridley movies "The Ridley Road" and "Stroke", which follows the Ridley crew to Henley and back, were shown in the Assembly Hall. Both are excellent productions, and they were much appreciated by those who saw them.

Also after the game, tea was served in the main Gym and a Rock group performed in the upper area. The small attendance at the latter suggests that it was a somewhat less than popular form of entertainment.

At 6.30 p.m., cocktails were served, again in the Gym, prior to dinner in the Great Hall. The latter was comfortably filled, and Alan Jarvis (46), the in-coming President of the Association, presided easily and efficiently. Other than a short address by Ted Pilgrim, there were no speeches. Two boys in the school provided some pleasing guitar-music, and Sam Anderson (45), on behalf of the class of '45, presented to the school a painting by an Old Boy artist, Hugh Cronyn (24). The gathering was a relatively quiet affair, noticeably so in view of the school's fine football victory in the afternoon. Following the dinner, the festivities continued at the St. Catharines Club.

The Choir was in very good voice at Sunday morning's Chapel service, as was the speaker, Laddie Cassels (13). In compelling tones, he read a sermon that had been given by the first Head Master of Ridley, Dr. J. O. Miller, on the occasion of a Memorial Service for the Old Boys who gave their lives in the First Great War.

Following the service, an enjoyable reception was held at the house of John and Cose Guest in the Lower School, preceeding a buffet-luncheon in the Great Hall.

As had been suggested, the week-end could hardly have been better arranged — all credit to Sam Heaman and the St. Catharines committee. It might be added in conclusion that it was apparent that the attendance, both of Old Boys and Parents, fell somewhat short of that anticipated and hoped for.

T.C.

Soccer '70

There have been more skilful soccer teams at Ridley than that of this year's Firsts; there have been better soccer players in the past, individually, than many of the current crop, but, without any doubt there has never been a more effective group than that of 1970. Look at the record that brought them the Independent Schools Championship — double header victories against Hillfield, T.C.S. and S.A.C., with a win and a tie over U.C.C. Throw in the exhibition win over Nichols and it adds up to an undefeated season. Ridley's supremacy in the league this year could also be shown by the fact that the title was sewn up before even playing Upper Canada. The latter, surprisingly, dropped five points in the early games with S.A.C. and Hillfield before meeting Ridley.

What were the ingredients that made this an outstanding team? Striking power up front with Robinson and Szczucinski was a factor. Their height and shooting strength enabled them to grab the larger percentage of the team's 23 goals scored. Speed and hard graft, typified the play of Twidle and Frederick on the wings, the last mentioned defying the theory that a "good big un" is better than a "good wee un". Strength and speed though need the supplement of skill and control. This pre-requisite was supplied (as it usually is) by our Bermudians. Here Ashton and Rance did a fine job. Ashton's leadership qualities as captain were really tested (and I might add the coach's frustration point) as the team had to come from behind on six out of eight occasions to win. The defence had a "rookie" look with Jacobs, Ivey, MacMillan, Tucker and Iggulden filling the spots. Weldon (ma.) looked the part and fulfilled the promise he had shown as substitute last season. Hopefully Scott-Paine will make the same progress next year. Some people say that to be a good sportsman you first have to be a good loser. I'm glad we did not have to lose to prove it. This team was a credit to their school, their coach and to themselves. A professional (in the true sense of the word) attitude towards training and a willingness to work for success created an atmosphere of team loyalty that prevailed even in the deepest moments of despair and frustration. Football and soccer (to paraphrase a current pop musical) have provided the school with the "dawning of the age of the championship."

Szczucinski nears the goal in U.C.C. game.

May the winter and summer sports follow suit. That the full success was achieved under a policy of free choice of sports for all students should provide food for future thought.

Scholarship Examinations

Very few Ridleians are winners of university entrance scholarships; there should be great concern that this situation continues to exist. But this situation will not improve unless the School is able to attract really first-class students in the lower grades. The best means for attracting such students to the School lies in the granting of entrance scholarships to Ridley to deserving boys. Have you a son who is a bright, prospective candidate for an entrance scholarship, or do friends or business associates have such sons? Please spread the word so that an intelligent, academically-oriented group of candidates will have a chance to win entrance scholarships.

The scholarship examinations, in English and Mathematics, are being written this year on Friday, February 26th. Candidates who will enter Grades 7, 8, 9 or 10 next Fall are eligible to compete. Please contact the Headmaster for full details and an entry form. Boys who cannot come to the School on that day may write the examinations under proper supervision at other centres.

It is disappointing each year that so few new boys try the examinations. The financial support available through these scholarships is considerable, and every Old Boy and Parent concerned with the continuing academic strength of Ridley should make sure that potential winners of entrance scholarships be encouraged to write the examinations.

William B. C. Burgoyne

His family, Ridley, the Anglican Church, the Community, the Press of Canada and a score of other organizations have lost a great friend, a fine supporter and a generous giver in the untimely passing of Bill Burgoyne at the comparatively young age of 49.

I had the honour and the distinct pleasure to know Bill for one-fifth of his life, during which we worked together on many projects, not only for Ridley but in the community and elsewhere. I know of no one who gave of himself and his fine mind more than he.

He was a Ridleian through and through, having attended the school from 1930 to 1937, and having served on the Board of Governors, succeeding his father, from 1950 to 1970. The history of the school in due course will reveal his forty years of devotion to his old school.

In one of many editorials written in his memory in papers from coast to coast, the following words aptly convey the man:

"Bill received his early education at Ridley College, whose Latin motto can be translated as 'May I be consumed in service.' It may truly be said that Bill Burgoyne learned the ideal of service early from school and church and family, and all his life lived up to the injunction contained in that motto."

Ridley Clothing

It has been brought to the Editor's attention by one or two Old Boys that they have seen non-Ridleians wearing Ridley sweater coats, etc. that have been discarded. They felt, of course, that there was nothing wrong with the clothing being given away for further use. However, it is felt that if this is done that Ridley insignia, such as R's, team crests, etc. should be removed.

Harriers 70

It's always said, year after year, how that year's team was the best for such and such a reason. However, this year's Harriers squad, while its record may not have been the best ever (although it came close to being so), was certainly on of the most unique we have had.

It was our first year of being part of the St. Catharines S.O.S.S.A. league on a permanent basis. After having been excluded from this league for a year, the team made a surprisingly good showing in all divisions; almost never finishing below 3rd in any one race.

Harriers, from the start, looked to be a most promising team. This year saw probably the largest number of 'old' Harriers returning ever; four old colours, Cooper I, Ferguson ma., McClelland, and Moffat, plus such veterans as Taylor, Gill ma., Weinstein, Lawrence, Newell ma., and Fraser all came back for another season.

It is interesting to note that the team, again for the first time, had a very respectable number of Upper School Midgets in its ranks. In past seasons, Harriers has only been able to field one or two Midgets from the IVth form; this season, however, we were fortunate to acquire Hendrie, MacLeod, Nisbet and Slemon mi, all of whom gave a very fine, consistent performance in the various St. Catharines races, not to mention those against Nichols and Appleby. Hopefully, the IVth forms of future years will continue to contribute their talents to the team.

After having come out second best in the 1969 meet with Nichols (held in Buffalo), the team was determined to get revenge. And so they did. When the score was added up, it was found that Ridley had won, 39 to 40. This was perhaps the best showing of the season for Harriers. Both teams were surprisingly strong, and it was only a case of who came out of the Hogsback in the better places that determined which way the race would fall. The Nichols captain gave a very fine performance, setting, I believe, a record time of 15:56 for the course. Congratulations to him for his effort.

This year, we were fortunate enough to put our Junior and Senior teams, plus Hendrie MacLeod and McElheny (from the Lower School) into the S.O.S.S.A. finals at Waterdown. There, although we couldn't manage to get a team into the All-Ontario meet, we beat all the other St. Catharines teams there; many of whom had beaten us in the qualifying 'Zone 4' races. Nevertheless, two of our number, Cooper and McClelland, obtained individual standings high enough to qualify them for the All-Ontario. Unfortunately, due to circumstances beyond their control, they did not place as well in the All-Ontario as they had in other races, but even so gave their best effort.

This year, as last, we had a home-and-home dual meet with Appleby, the only I.S.A.A. School against whom the Harriers competed. Ridley managed to win both races, with McClelland taking first place in each of the two encounters with the double-blue. Perhaps next year Ridley and Appleby will be joined by some of the other Independent Schools to form a league.

Colours this year were awarded with respect to attitude, effort and achievement of an individual. Four very deserving team members, Hendrie, Hooper, Lawrence and Roberts, received their little R's, three of whom, with McClelland, will return to head up next year's team.

Congratulations are due to all who participated in Harriers this year, and particularly, to the coach, Mr. John Silver, who as usual did a superb job in shaping and guiding the team throughout the season. For the Harriers team, 1970 was indeed a very good year.

The Drunkard

For the first time in Ridley's dramatic history, a true Edwardian melodrama came to the stage. "The Drunkard", by Raymond Hall, proved to be an intoxicating success, revealing the extraordinary quality of acting at Ridley. The success of the production was a great tribute to the directing skill of Mr. Alan Youngson. Considering this is his first year at Ridley he has certainly set himself a high standard to follow.

The script being as weak as it was, placed a great onus on the actors, all of whom performed exceptionally well. Ridley's traditional challenge to provide female actors was this year met by Reid and Stevens I. Despite certain vocal problems, Reid portrayed an elderly and haranguing mother, while Stevens I played her daughter. The villain seeking to exploit feminine innocence was acted by Bennett. Special attention must go to his bewildered assistant played by Lawrence, who did an excellent job of portraying a difficult character. The somewhat intoxicated hero of the melodrama was played by Burn. Lastly, some new talent came to light this year as the Headmaster and the Chaplain made their debut on the Ridley stage as a bar tender and an indulger respectively. As talented as these fine actors were, the production owed its life to the director Mr. Alan Youngson. His devotion in the early and trying rehearsals brought about the final success of the play.

Technically, the stage crew managed to provide Ridley with its first roll drop. Special recognition should go to Woodruff and Mrs. K. Boa, for their excellent designs, and Sabia as an able stage manager.

The Drunkard is a prime example of the diversified theatrical talents present at Ridley, and one can certainly expect to see bigger and better things from the Drama Society in the near future.

Notes around the School

The Prefects in the Upper School this year are: Aziz, Bell, Burn, Love, Lytle I, Moffat, McFarlane and Reid.

Our 1st Hockey Team has started off the season in fine form. They have been victorious in the three games they played before the Christmas holidays.

Cross-Country day was wet and very muddy underfoot. In spite of this the turnout was really excellent and considering the state of the course the times were not too bad. Winner of the Senior was Cooper. The Intermediate was won by McClelland and Hendrie show his heels to all comers in the Junior.

The Lower School Senior Cross-Country Trophy was captured by McElheny while Kyle mi triumphed in the Junior.

Duty Boys in the Lower School this year are: Ashbaugh Black, Hooker, Kingstone, McElheny, Naylor, Seitz and Tucker ma.

Executive Changes

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ridley College Scholarship Fund, Inc. was held at The Country Club of Buffalo, Buffalo, N.Y., on Wednesday, November 18th.

For the first time the meeting was held outside New York City. At the meeting a good number of changes took place in the Board of Directors. This was done in order to enlarge the representation of the Board geographically and to accommodate a transfer of the headquarters from New York City to Buffalo.

The following directors retired after many years of service to the Fund and to the School: C. Spanton Ashdown (40), George R. Holloway (45), A. Graham Ness (37), Colin Park (37), and F. P. 'Skip' Banyard (52).

The directors elected to the Board were: Samuel I. A. Anderson (45), George D. Enos Jr. (41), Robert J. A. Irwin (46), James K. Lindsay (34), E. W. 'Peter' Mandeville (38), H. T. Mandeville (40), James P. Atwater (46), Clinton S. Brown (43), A. David Charlton (49), Frederick N. C. Jerauld III (53) and Mr. Henry B. Puff (Parent).

Elected as officers for the coming year were the following:

George D. Enos Jr. — President
Robert J. A. Irwin — Vice-President
Frederick N. C. Jerauld III — Treasurer
Clinton S. Brown — Secretary

Our congratulations are extended to the new Officers and to the Board as a whole. They will, we know, carry on the fine work that has been done by this organization in the past on behalf of Ridley.

The Choir

I think that all of us at Ridley are proud of the Chapel Choir. As its Director, it is hard for me to be objective about it, but there are many reasons why this pride should be justified. First, as school choirs go, we have a reasonably unique set up. This is a church choir and its primary function is the provision of good music for the worship of God. Secondly, it is the only cultural activity in the school which involves so many boys for the whole school year. There are about thirty trebles from the Lower School who practice three times a week. The thirty altos, tenors and basses from the Upper School also have weekly sectional practices and the whole choir comes together for a full rehearsal once a week.

This term has been terrific. The choir has learned and performed a different anthem each week for the Sunday service; it has made a very successful visit to St. Paul's, Bloor Street, Toronto; and performed a dozen difficult carols at the Carol service. This makes a rough total of 20 anthems for the term which represents a very hard and fast pace. You expect a Cathedral choir to achieve this kind of result and they have far more rehearsal time on their hands. They can obtain treble voices at the ages of seven or eight. We get them at the ages of ten or eleven which is far from ideal. A Cathedral choir has professional altos, tenors and basses, we have boys. So, we have a boy choir which is quite unique in this province and which deserves all the support it can get.

A very encouraging sign is that we have more boys desirous of being in the choir than we have openings. Is there really so much wrong with today's youth when it can produce beautiful music? I think not. A good choir tends to be taken for granted and the world at large does not see how hard these kids work at it. There are no colours or "R's" of various sizes for the choir, the reward is that sense of well being when the music has gone just right.
